Your eyes are immediately drawn to a stunning curved beige sofa that sits in the center of the room. The sofa's plush velvet fabric catches the light just right, making it look almost iridescent. As you approach the sofa, you can see the intricate details of the upholstery. The velvet fabric has a subtle, yet intricate pattern that adds depth and texture to the sofa's surface. You run your hand over it and feel the softness of the fabric against your skin.

When we talk about elegant pieces of furniture, we mean those are not tacky – not too bold or not too plain – if you notice that the couches in this living room is actually plain, but they added textured throw pillows to add a hint of old world charm to this space. Notice the theme of the decorations in here too. Do you like it?

No living space is complete without a comfortable sofa. It is the anchor piece that sets the tone and makes the space feel inviting. This is the case with our EDESSA sofa. Modular, Comfortable and Trendy!

TV UNITS

It's not easy to fit your television into the aesthetic of a living room or bedroom but an elegant television stand provides an opportunity to make your screen a natural part of the space.

The key is to buy a TV stand that's compatible with both your television and the existing decor and homewares in your room. A big screen on a small TV stand poses a safety risk while a TV unit that's too large for your television can look odd. It's just as important to find a TV stand style that matches the style of your room.

On this page: Our BERETTA tv unit with its matt black color and stainless steel legs and ICON tv table with its beautiful solid wood frame and electroplated steel.

Perched above a steel frame, Semibreve delivers sleek lineal modernism in wood form. The wall unit design is the closest reference to the vibrations that surround us. T

The design visually mimics the glide from one pitch to another in music. With the pleasant aesthetics given by the organic shapes and the storage capacity. ERA is it!

DINING TABLES

A dining room is much more than a functional space where meals are served. It is a space where a family gathers to share stories after a long day. It may also be the place where children finish their homework and assemble projects, where parties are held, and where friends linger long after the meal is over. At a pinch, it may even be where you set up your home office on the days you work from home.

“If it’s the right chair, it doesn’t take too long to get comfortable in it.” ~ Robert De Niro

Era's journey begins with naturalness. All the materials used were specially produced to be free from artificiality and in harmony with each other. The glass materials used in Era were specially produced with the fusion technique. The process, which is made after the transparent and colored glass is cut into the desired form when cold, is placed according to the specified shape, and cooked at 750-900 degrees in ovens special for glass, is called "glass fusion". The fusion technique is completely handcrafted. So one of the objects is similar to the other, but never the same.

SIDEBOARDS

Sideboard, piece of furniture designed to hold plates, decanters, side dishes, and other accessories for a meal and frequently containing cupboards and drawers. When the word first appeared in the Middle Ages as an alternative to “side table,” it described a stepped structure used (as sideboards often have been) for the display of conspicuously valuable eating utensils.

Our MONA white sideboard with its silver legs is a sleek and modern addition to any home. The clean, white finish of the sideboard adds a sense of brightness to the room, while the silver legs add a touch of sophistication and elegance. The combination of white and silver creates a contemporary and stylish look that can complement a variety of decor styles. The sideboard is typically long and low, with ample storage space for household items like dishes, linens, or books. The silver legs provide a sturdy base for the sideboard, adding both function and style to the piece.

When choosing garden furniture, it's worth paying attention to the material it is made of. Wood, rattan and steel require different type of maintenance, and not only the preferred style, but also the intended place of use affects the choice of outdoor furniture. This Design Stories column provides answers to questions by design lovers.

Clean lines and elegant materials make this outdoor sofa a standout. Perfect for stylish lounging from patio to poolside, it's handsomely crafted of Aluminum and durable textile built. Inspired by midcentury modern furnishings, the mixed-material design balances sleek geometry with eye-catching details.

- Crafted of durable aluminum.
- Thick, fast-drying cushions are covered in stain- and mildew-resistant fabric.
- For outdoor and indoor use.

A pergola can make your outdoor space more comfortable. It allows light in, while also providing some shade. Enjoy a view of the sky without having direct sunlight beating down on you and your guests.

If you would like a more fully shaded area, you can add an all-weather fabric shade cover or canopy to the top of the pergola. For additional protection from the sun, wind and other weather elements – and to give your pergola a very romantic feel – fabric can also be installed between the vertical posts.

Pergola lets you create an extra living space outdoors. Are you looking for a welcoming lounge to relax in with friends and family, a sheltered playroom for the kids or a cozy place to relax whatever season.

A study of the architectural elements comprising the structure of the Desk, it brings full appreciation for the modernist masterpiece. A chair would slide beneath two boomerang Solid Ash support beams. At the point where vertical transforms to horizontal, rounded oblong shapes have been cut out of the beams creating a transparent airy illusion. Resting on raised stainless steel support buttons, A 15mm thick tempered glass plate provides an elegant writing surface for Protractor. Stainless steel bolt sleeves float the wooden beams off the surface of the slatted cube of 5 drawers. On the opposite side, total transparency is achieved with an open faced single pull out drawer covered by a 15mm glass panel. Two steel rods extend from the boomerang beams, supporting the outer edge of the transparent drawer. A design marvel exceptionally reproduced and coated with a brilliant lustrous finish.

PENTHOUSE PROJECT IN SUN TOWER, AL REEM ISLAND, ABU DHABI

Our interior design team recently had the opportunity to design a stunning 4-bedroom penthouse in the Sun Tower, Abu Dhabi. We started the project from scratch and incorporated our panel designs in the TV unit and fireplace, adding a modern and sleek look to the space. For the furniture, we opted for neutral colors with a pop of orange to add a touch of warmth to the overall design. We also added small decorative elements and plants to bring life into the space. One of the most fun aspects of the project was designing the children's bedrooms. We incorporated playful elements into the design, making their rooms an exciting and inviting place to be. The kids loved it so much that they never want to leave their rooms! Overall, our design team was thrilled with the results, and we are confident that the homeowners will enjoy their new penthouse for years to come.
